

Linda Levy, Campaign Director

Linda Levy is a campaign director with Coxe Curry & Associates. She brings 27 years of experience working with the nonprofit sector in Atlanta. Linda has led the development offices at The Galloway School, The Howard School, and Camp Twin Lakes. She has also held development roles at The Goizueta Business School at Emory University and the American Cancer Society.

As the Director of Development at The Galloway School, Linda led the efforts to attract major grants from foundations, corporations and individuals. She helped reinvigorate the Annual Giving Campaign, doubling the amount raised and reaching over $1 million for the first time in the school's history. At The Howard School, she led the capital campaign to purchase land and move the school to its current site on the west-side of Atlanta. She also led two successful endowment and capital campaigns at Camp Twin Lakes and served as the organization's first development director. At Emory, she helped raise $29 million to build a new business school building that led to naming the school in honor of Roberto Goizueta.

A native of Montgomery, Alabama, Linda graduated from the University of Georgia in advertising and marketing, and lives in Brookhaven with her husband, Bert. Bert is an attorney with Fine & Block and they have two adult sons, Max and Sam. Linda enjoys being outside and spends most mornings at boot camp or running with her friends.

Linda is an active volunteer at The Temple in midtown Atlanta and continues to volunteer with Camp Twin Lakes and The Galloway School.

llevy@coxecurry.com